Palmer High School held an educational assembly on Internet safety and cyber bullying on Wednesday January 27, 2010. The assembly was presented to grades 8 through 10 and is part of an ongoing initiative to educate and enlighten students about bullying, tolerance and cyber safety. Today's program consisted of information on Internet awareness, about protecting personal information, and the negative use of technology as a tool to harass and bully. Guidance and the District Technology Director provided students with safety measures that they could utilize in order to protect themselves while using technology.

Palmer High School is pleased that students in our Students as Technology Leaders class (SaTL) and our Peer Leadership class have taken an active role, along with School Guidance and Administrators, in creating the content for future assemblies, which have been planned to address bullying in schools and cyber bullying.

Special thanks to all involved.
